

gress at once. This had been the policy of the Liberty party thus far, and he approved it. But he denied that there was in this respect the least inconsistency in the conduct and principles of the Liberty party.

George Bradburn, of Cleveland, after listening to the discussion, was not sure whether emancipation could best be attained by connecting it with other reforms or by pursuing it separately from all other objects.

Our opinion of the question involved in this discussion, our readers already know. The Liberty party, as now organized, will never become a universal reform party.

Result of Election.

An exchange gives the following list of majorities on Governor, which is probably as accurate as anything we shall get before the official canvass:

Table with columns: Name, Ransom, Edmunds. Rows include Wayne, Oakland, St. Clair, Macomb, Washtenaw, Jackson, Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Barry, Monroe, Lenawee, Berrien, St. Joseph, Livingston, Branch, Hillsdale, Van Buren, Kent, Lapeer, Shiawassee, Genesee, Mackinac, Allegan, Ottawa, Ionia, Eaton, Cass, Ingham, Clinton.

An electioneer writer in the Detroit Advertiser, in trying to persuade Liberty men to drop their organization, and vote the Whig ticket, offers to prove the corruption of the Liberty party.

Central Railroad.

About two thirds of the Central Railroad bridge, on the Huron River, two miles below Dexter, was destroyed by fire last Tuesday afternoon.

The Liberty vote of Oakland Co. is stated at 231—last year, 232.

Something New.

Some six months since, more or less, an examination was had in this vicinity by a clairvoyant, in the course of which he described a bluff, in the copper region, near Lake Superior, and stated that it had never been visited; that it was rich in copper, that he could find it, &c. &c.

The Argus says that Isbell, Whig, is elected Senator in this District, by a vote of 50 majority. Rice, the Democratic nominee, was defeated, as we suppose through a disagreement between the Young Democracy and the "Old Hunkers."

Central Railroad.

RETURN OF GEN. TAYLOR.—The Washington Union says Gen. Taylor asked and obtained leave of absence for six months, and he is expected home by the 1st of December.

From the War.

We have no very stirring news from the war. But some of the details are interesting, as showing that the Mexican force is greatly broken, and present appearances indicate that reinforcements may be able to get through to Gen. Scott.

Gen. Patterson was to leave Vera Cruz on the 31st, with a number of train escorts 5000 men and 220 wagons. Last advices that Alisco had been taken possession of by 1000 American troops.

The account of the Capture of Mexico, given in another column by an actor in the enterprise, is one of the most graphic and interesting we have read.

WASHINGTON LETTER WRITER SAYS: Last Saturday afternoon a concourse of several hundred persons were gathered opposite the President's seat at the outlet of the canal into the Potomac, to witness Mr. Urah Brown's grand experiment with his Greek fire.

The encampment presents a beautiful sight; white tents covering in extent a stretch of over a mile, make quite a warlike appearance: all is order, harmony and discipline, with a few exceptions.
